SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIF., THURSDAY, APRIL 23, 1925

NUMBER 17

ORANGE AVENUE DAY BIG SUCCESS

Rain and threatening weather did not deter the public spirited citizens on last Sunday morning in South San Francisco from carrying out the schedule arranged for Orange Avenue Day and putting through the project in grand style.

About two hundred willing workers with spades and axes tackled the mass of willows and patches of mud, transforming that particular right of way into a roadway. City Treasurer Ed. Kauffman, was the pace setter and certainly set a good pace.

Work started on the project at 8:30 a. m., and at 11:30 the road was cut through to Baden, (Los Cerritos). Chairman A. J. Eschelbach, with his able committees had every detail in hand and there is no doubt that had the real South San Francisco Summer weather prevailed fully 2,000 citizens would have been on hand. As it was three hours to cut through this bit of roadway was considered remarkable time for in some places rubber boots were at a premium.

The woman's club and Boy Scouts rendered excellent service and under the well known saying that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, there was plenty of entertainment for the workers. The South San Francisco band appeared early and furnished musical encouragement. Then there was the big feed or barbecue served at 11:30—for he who labors must eat, so he may be in a position to labor some more. This repast was served by the members of the Woman's club, after Pete Lind capable barbecue chief, assisted by Vincenzini Brothers and their corps of butchers and U. Gantenbein prepared the viands.

Water was carried to the workers by the Boy Scouts who also assisted in transferring working tools from blistered hands to citizens who wore gloves or who were not so susceptible to blisters. The entertainment feature of the day was carried out in splendid style and included Gallagher and Shean, imitated by A. P. Scott and Dr. J. C. McGovern, in some special Orange Avenue Day verses. Ben Hjerpe and J. G. Walker rendered tenor solos in their usual pleasing style with Mrs. Ambrose McSweeney presiding at the piano. The chorus in which the melodious voices of David G. Ratto, Dr. J. C. McGovern, Postmaster L. G. Hardy, Fire Chief B. H. Truax, J. G. Walker and Ben Hjerpe blended in the rendition of that old time classic "Sweet Adeline" wafted over the scene as if an echo of the past when a bunch of jolly good fellows gathered on festive or other occasions.

VENDORS CITED BY SHERIFF

Redwood City.—Sheriff T. C. McGovern of San Mateo county Sunday, issued citations to several persons to appear before the district attorney today and show cause why they should not be arrested for violating a new county ordinance prohibiting sales of any kind on the highways of the county.

The men stopped by the sheriff yesterday were: William Frantti, Cleveland; was selling oranges near Beresford; Vernon Ventley and Walter Barnes, both of San Francisco, had a sandwich wagon near Beresford; Herbert Holdwasser, San Francisco, had a sandwich wagon near San Bruno; and Gus Paulsen, of South San Francisco, who had an ice cream wagon on the Crystal Springs road, near Skyline boulevard.

Hereafter, warns Sheriff McGovern, vendors guilty of violating Ordinance 334 will be arrested forthwith.

Thanks Extended to All

Trustee A. J. Eschelbach, chairman of the Orange Avenue Day Committee, which last Sunday proved its worth publicly, thanked through the local press, at the regular board of trustees meeting on Monday night, all those who assisted in this great public spirited undertaking, and also all those who so splendidly contributed towards the great barbecue.

JUST A FEW WORDS FROM THE PUBLISHER

With this issue the Enterprise makes its appearance under my sole ownership and editorial supervision. Never in my extended journalistic experience, covering a period of about twenty years, have I taken over a publication under more favorable conditions. Unhampered in any way by individual or factional promises or pledges, entirely independent so far as financial strings are concerned; obligated to none but the public at large; a splendid list of bona fide paid up subscribers nearing the two thousand mark; an excellent advertising patronage, and with a publication having had in the past, a clean record in journalism under the able guidance of Mr. George Morell, the former publisher, South San Francisco can be assured of a newspaper worthy the progressive industrial city it represents.

"With Malice Towards None" and "A Square Deal To All" shall always be my slogan.

My decision to purchase the Enterprise was not made over night, and during the past few years, at least, I have kept myself informed in connection with the important matters in South San Francisco. I fully realize my responsibility and shall be guided accordingly.

THOMAS WIEDEMANN, Editor.

AUTO LAW BREAKERS, DRUNKS PAY FINES

Coffers of the city were enriched by several drunk and traffic law violators over the week-end. Offenders tagged by Chief of Police Belloni and his men were tried before City Recorder, Ed. Nolan, on Monday and Wednesday.

Those who paid for transgressions of the law were: William Pabst, Palo Alto, speeding $15; Eugene Christofosto, 1032 Kearney Street, San Francisco, drunk, $5; Martin Duffy, South San Francisco, drunk, $5; Nick Barron, San Bruno, drunk, $5; M. Basin, 1621 Lake street, San Francisco, speeding, $10; John Peterson, Grand Southern Hotel, cutting corner, dismissed with warning; E. Everett, 200 Bush street, speeding 43 miles an hour, forfeited $15 bail; Albert G. Poppin, 639 Bush street, speeding forfeited bail $10.

MANY PERMITS FOR DANCES GRANTED

At the regular meeting of the board of trustees held on Monday night, the following permits for dances and entertainments were granted: The Avalon club to hold dances in Fraternal hall, on Sunday afternoons, commencing with Sunday, April 26, to continue at the pleasure of the board. Chief of Police Belloni declared that the dances in the past have been conducted in an orderly manner. The club promised to pay the cost of a special officer and also to cancel dances and turn over the hall to organizations who might hold special functions on that day.

Permits were granted for a dance on Saturday, April 25th, and for one on Saturday, May 16, to be held under the auspices of the I. O. R. M. The request from Moulder's Union, No. 164, to hold a dance on Saturday, May 30, was granted. The request of Mrs. J. M. Baradat of the Poodle Dog Cafe, to hold dances every Saturday until 12 o'clock was granted, the time of said permit to be at the pleasure of the board.

The original request was that dances be held until 2 a. m. In connection with permits for dances in South San Francisco it is noted that Chief of Police Belloni, keeps excellent tabs on these functions and also it is a fact that the board is rightly guided in these matters by the chief's recommendations and reports.

The request for permission for an entertainment and dance on April 22, to be staged by the Employees Welfare club, of the Western Meat company, was granted.

Sues Pen. R. T. Co. For Heavy Damages

Charging that negligence on the part of a Peninsula Rapid Transit bus driver cost him the use of an arm and wrecked his automobile, R. S. Brown Friday, filed suit for $20,000 damages in superior court in Redwood City.

Brown is asking damages for injury to his property and his person, suffered in an automobile accident that took place November 8, 1925, on the state highway near Atherton.

Bus Hit Auto

He claims that a Rapid Transit bus crashed into his car while he was proceeding carefully along the highway and damaged the auto to the extent of $600, and injured him seriously. A flying bolt struck him, the complaint says, and temporarily cost him the use of an arm.

He charges the company with "carelessness and negligence" on the part of the driver, and asks a total of $20,720 damages. Attorney J. J. Bullock of Redwood City represents the plaintiff.

The firemen of South San Francisco are going to have their ball this year on May 23. Uniformed firemen are going to make a house to house canvass selling tickets. Other cities have been doing this and have been very successful financially. Everyone should buy a ticket who is financially able to do so. The moneys derived will go toward new uniforms.

ASSOCIATED FIREMEN HOLD BIG SESSION

With firemen from as far south as San Carlos and Menlo Park and north as far as Daly City a representative and well attended meeting of the Associated Firemen of San Mateo County, presided over by P. Ross of Daly City convened in the assembly room of the San Bruno Fire house on Tuesday evening. Besides the members of the fire companies of Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Burlingame, Menlo Park and San Carlos, Mayor O'Connor of San Bruno, Judge Farrell of South San Francisco, A. S. W. Grundy of San Bruno and City Trustees Bodene, Sanderman and Moran of Daly City, were in attendance.

The entire board of trustees of San Bruno were extended a special invitation to attend but with the exception of Chairman O'Connor none attended.

At the beginning of the session, Secretary N. M. Nasits introduced Mayor O'Connor who in a brief address, in which he lauded the local company as one of the city of San Bruno was justly proud, welcomed the visiting delegates, numbering about sixty, to the city, on behalf of the citizens. Secretary Clark of the advisory committee submitted a very interesting report which incorporated some very important recommendations, which later in the evening were adopted by the members. The recommendation that the dues be $1.00 per year, payable in advance was carried.

A committee of three was appointed, on recommendation of the advisory committee to take up the matter of fire protection with Colma, Lomita Park and Millbrae.

It was decided at the meeting that the association hold a big dance at Pacific City on July 18, and an active committee representative of the various fire companies was appointed. The matter of the publication of a monthly magazine it was decided, will be taken up by the publicity committee with Editor Thomas Wiedemann of the South San Francisco Enterprise and San Bruno Recorder. Captain Nasits of the San Bruno Fire company brought up the matter of the standardization of fire equipment throughout the county and this met with the hearty endorsement of the delegates. It was decided that committee meetings of the advisory committee, publicity committee and dance committee be held in the fire house at San Carlos on Wednesday evening, next. Also it was decided to hold the next regular meeting in the city hall Burlingame on Tuesday, May 20. After the meeting the members sat down to a luncheon prepared by William Holmes of the San Bruno department with the assistance of the San Bruno Fire company Ladies Auxiliary.

President, Toastmaster P. Ross, called upon Mayor O'Connor, Ex-Mayor A. S. W. Grundy, Judge Edward Farrell, S. Lombardi Sr., Phil Clark and Thomas Wiedemann for a few remarks. Mayor O'Connor again lauded the local company and also declared himself as greatly impressed with the San Mateo association. Mr. Grundy dwelt on the fact that the organization could and would probably become a great factor for the good in the county. He impressed upon the delegates the fact that one of the principal functions should be fire prevention and the conserving of the trees and forests of California. Also, he declared, that the standardization of equipment was a move in the right direction. He, however, warned the members against entering politics as an organization.

Judge Farrell, on the other hand, advocated that the association enter politics as then it would become a factor of some importance. The judge in his usual witty manner indulged in a few humorous remarks and concluded with the statement that he was greatly impressed with the strength and the manner in which the association conducted its meetings. Mr. Lombardi, as usual, offered his aid in a public spirited manner to the fire lads and his remarks, though brief, were sincere throughout. Thomas Wiedemann pledged plenty of good publicity to the organization through the medium of his two publications, and made public, for the first time, that he contemplated the purchase of a third newspaper in the very near future when he would be in a position to effectively cover the entire northern end of San Mateo county.

BRIDGE FRANCHISE IS LAID OVER

Redwood City.—As the result of several protests relative to granting a franchise for the construction of a toll bridge across the lower arm of San Francisco bay from Little Coyote Point to the Alameda County shore near Mount Eden, the board of San Mateo county supervisors Monday put over until their next meeting the matter of the application of Frank E. Webb for such a franchise.

Co-incidental with the formal application of Webb for the franchise, Attorney J. W. Colebreth of South San Francisco, representing Frank C. Towns, New York banker, who has given notice that he will on June 1, apply for a franchise such as is sought by Webb, asked that the board show no haste until his client had been heard fully.

Colebreth said Towns was equipped to carry out the work "On the other hand," the attorney declared, "the applicant who comes before you today has failed during the past two years to make good his promises. That is a strong argument why the board should investigate the new applicant."

On motion of Supervisor Thompson, seconded by Supervisor Francis, the matter was to be put over until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, but Attorney Colebreth said that was not long enough. Then Supervisor Rosalie M. Brown offered an amendment to the motion, setting the time of hearing for May 4 and calling for the appointment of a committee to confer with the district attorney and investigate the standing of each of the two applicants for a bridge franchise. To this amendment Supervisor Hickey offered a second. It was adopted.

Chairman John MacBain appointed the following committee to conduct the investigation: Linval Castle, San Mateo banker, Ira H. Potter, South San Francisco banker; Dr. C. V. Thompson and Thomas L. Hickey, members of the board of supervisors; and George Kneese, county engineer.

District Attorney Franklin Swart, called on for his opinion in the matter, urged the board to "take plenty of time." In communications received by the supervisors from the city governments of Burlingame and San Mateo, the board was urged to grant no franchise unless the grantee guaranteed to put up a bond of sufficient amount to insure the work being carried through. A protest relative to the Webb application was also received from the Morgan Oyster Company.

HIGHWAY GETS ASSEMBLY "O. K."

Sacramento.—Senator Breed's bill declaring as a state highway the Bayshore highway, extending from San Francisco to San Jose, was approved by the assembly today and sent to the governor.

The vote in the assembly was unanimous.

Other highways which would be included in the bill are those from San Rafael to Point San Quentin, from Crescent City to the Oregon line, from Alturas to the Oregon line, from Coville to Nevada in Mono county, from Bakersfield to Mojave, from Needles to Topoc, from Shaversfork to Coachella, from Blythe to the Colorado river, and from Oxnard to the main coast highway.

ENTERS UPON NEW BUSINESS VENTURE

D. W. Ratto, cashier of the Bank of South San Francisco, and for seven years, connected with that institution leaves the bank on the first of May, to enter business for himself. Mr. Ratto contemplates establishing a real estate office in the building now occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Company, at 319 Grand avenue, the telephone company will move into the building recently vacated by the Pacific Telephone company.

Mr. Ratto who has been secretary of the bank since 1912, has resided in South San Francisco, for the past five years, and sees a great future in South San Francisco. Mr. Ratto, who is a native son of California, born in San Francisco, was connected with the Bank of Italy in that city. He contemplates conducting an insurance business in conjunction with his real estate enterprise, having been in the insurance business for fifteen years. His large circle of friends wish him all kinds of success in his new venture as he is widely known as a man of sterling worth, a thorough business man and a public spirited booster.

THE PUBLIC PARK MATTER DISCUSSED

In all probabilities the matter of acquiring the 20 acres of land for a city park and play grounds from the South San Francisco Land company, will be definitely settled at the adjourned meeting of the board of trustees, to be held tomorrow night.

At the regular meeting of the board held on Monday night with all members of the board in attendance, Attorney Davis submitted a clause to be inserted in the original agreement which he contended would satisfy all members of the board. It appears that Trustee Blank and McCaffrey, while heartily in favor of the park project, contended that a little technicality might at some future time tend to place a wrong construction on the matter, and it was for that reason that Attorney Davis framed the extra clause.

Trustee Eschelbach contended that the spirit of the agreement would be carried out without this extra clause, but finally good naturedly, agreed to having it inserted. Trustee Cunningham contended that the new clause added nothing to the original agreement, and he too, finally practically agreed to the rider, therefore, it is now practically settled that matters will be adjusted in a satisfactory manner agreeable to all members of the board and South San Francisco will have taken the first step towards acquiring a future park and play grounds site in the Orange Avenue district.

BUYS STOCK OF S. F. FURNITURE

Bean and Thomas this week, increased their growing new and second hand furniture business in South San Francisco, by buying the entire stock of the South San Francisco Furniture Company, at 349 Grand avenue, and in order to make room for new stock and properly adjust matters in connection with a material expansion of their firm they are putting on a big removal sale, starting today and continuing until May 1.

About a year ago, F. C. Thomas became associated with Mr. J. H. Bean, who for about five or six years has conducted a new and second hand furniture store in South San Francisco on Linden avenue. Mr. Thomas, being one of the progressive business men at once made plans for expansion and the buying of the fine stock of the well known South San Francisco Furniture company, was right in line with this progressive idea. We call your attention to his announcement elsewhere in this issue.

REDWOOD CO. OPENS SAN BRUNO BRANCH

The Fox-McNulty Lumber company of Redwood City is opening a branch lumber yard at San Bruno. The firm has secured a site in the Belle Air tract and is now having warehouse, office and yard built.

Robert Fox, son of E. B. Fox, one of the owners of the company, and for the past several years connected with the Hart-Wood Lumber company in San Francisco, will have charge of the San Bruno yards. The Fox-McNulty Lumber company has been in business in Redwood for the past 12 years, having acquired the interests of the Tacoma Milling company, pioneer lumber firm of the Peninsula. The owners are E. B. Fox and George W. McNulty.

EPOC MAKING EVENT WAS CELEBRATED

Inauguration of the first regular steamship service down the bay to Redwood City, blazing the trail for the development of peninsula shipping from South San Francisco to San Carlos and Redwood City, was marked Friday with the sailing of the McCormick line freighter Silverado from Redwood City bound for Portland.

An elaborate celebration hailed the arrival of the vessel, which is not large but is a deep-sea craft, on its first voyage down the bay from San Francisco yesterday.

First Big Ship

It was the first vessel of any size to dock at the Redwood City wharves, and is a forerunner to a regular service between the Redwood City Cement works and Portland.

Thursday night a banquet was held in honor of Captain Tietgen of the Silverado shortly after it docked from San Francisco. Present at the banquet were J. C. Strittmatter and W. G. Libbey, officials of the McCormick line representing the steamship company; A. G. Lang and O. D. Small, representing the cement company; E. B. Hinman, president of the Redwood City chamber of commerce, and Asa Hull and Dr. H. A. Clattenburg of Redwood City.

Forecast Development

The Silverado is a 3000-ton vessel plying between San Francisco and coast ports. It is 250 feet over all, and is a fast craft for its type. It made the trip down from San Francisco in two and a half hours yesterday, and departed at 5 o'clock this morning.

Speakers at the banquet on Thursday forecast a heavy shipping development for Redwood City and other Peninsula ports, made all the more probable by the recent state bill allowing South San Francisco to dredge San Bruno bar, which has checked bay traffic.

Requests Commission In Matters Of Health

City Health Officer, T. C. Doak, who was in attendance at regular meeting of the board of trustees on Monday night, suggested that a health commission of four or five members be appointed. Mayor McNellis stated that the board would take the matter up with the health officer and matters along the lines suggested would possibly be favorably considered. The report of health officer Doak submitted at the regular meeting, gave South San Francisco practically a clean bill of health.

Indict Youth For Postoffice Robbery

The United States grand jury Thursday returned a true bill against John Lagomarsino and Edwin Murphy on a charge of robbing the Colma post-office and stealing parcel post packages. They were arrested a few days ago when attempting to sell their plunder. They are being held in the county jail, being unable to furnish bail of $1,000 each.

BOARD ENDORSES GASOLINE TAX

A telegram from T. P. Andrews, dated Sacramento, apprising the board of trustees that the bill had passed the assembly placing the Bay Shore highway among the State highways was received at the regular board of trustees meeting on Monday night. In connection with this very gratifying news, Manager Phil Thompson of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, addressed the board and on motion of Trustees Cunningham and McCaffrey the following resolution was unanimously adopted and copies ordered sent to Senator Johnson, Senator Breed and Assemblyman Ekward and to Governor Richardson and committees in both houses on roads and highways, revenue and taxation:

"Whereas, it is of utmost importance to the City of South San Francisco, that we lend aid to the adoption of the increased Gasoline and License Tax Bill, now before the State Legislature, as we firmly believe that it is the best possible means to develop one of the most important highways in the state of California, the Bay Shore highway.

"Now, be it resolved by the Board of Trustees, of the City of South San Francisco, that the increased Gasoline and License Tax Bill be endorsed and the City Clerk be directed to send copies of this resolution to our respective representatives in the State legislature at Sacramento; and to Honorable Friend W. Richardson, asking their support of same."

DAILY CITY NINE BEATS MERCHANTS

In the first of two games played last Sunday the South San Francisco Merchants went down to their initial defeat of the season at the hands of the Daily City nine. The score was 8 to 7. The game was hotly contested, but Daily City managed to hold a one-point lead until the close. G. Lauffer and B. Stallings did the chucking for the locals.

In the afternoon the Merchants defeated the steel workers team 15 to 12. Stallings hurled most of the afternoon contest also.

The lineup for the Daily City game was: G. Fambriani, c; M. Mazzetti, 1f; R. Wring, 3b; A. Medgehini, 1b; G. Mtnay, cf; G. Lauffer, p; E. Rinque, ss; Levio Raffaelli, rf; B. Stallings p.

An error was recorded in the reporting of the game of Sunday, April 12, when it was said Virgil Ringle played with the Merchants. Bud Ringle played the torrid corner on that day.

QUITS AS MEMBER OF HOSPITAL COMMISSION

Redwood City, April 20.—Resignation of Selah Chamberlain, as a member of the community hospital commission administering the institution at Beresford was accepted today by the San Mateo county supervisors. This follows the resignation submitted last week by Dr. C. V. Thompson after the supervisors had voted to take away from the commission the power to appoint other commissioners.

The supervisors exonerated Dr. Wood C. Baker, medical superintendent of the hospital, of charges that patients outside the county had been admitted free of charge, and gave a vote of confidence in Dr. Baker.

Accidental Death Coroner's Verdict

The crash at Millbrae on Tuesday morning which resulted in the death of Orville Canfield and William Harbuck was called an "unavoidable accident" in a verdict rendered by a coroner's jury Thursday night at the inquest into Harbuck's death. The jury in the inquest into the death of Canfield declared that death was "accidental." Both bodies will be shipped east for burial tomorrow, it was announced by S. Neri, South San Francisco undertaker.

The afternoon was spent in games.

CAR DROPS 200 FEET TO ROCKS

Skidding around a sharp curve on the Bayshore road in the vicinity of Skelley's Cave, last Saturday afternoon Willard White of San Francisco, sustained what may prove to be fatal injuries when his car plunged down 200 feet to the beach below.

White suffered severe bruises and internal injuries when his car was demolished on the sharp boulders on the beach. Although there were no witnesses to the accident, skid marks of White's car show where he had attempted to round the sharp curve at a high rate of speed. The wreck was seen by passing motorists who climbed down the cliff to his aid.

Fashion Smiles on Trimmed Millinery

Fashion has fallen in love with trimmings, in spring and summer millinery—so much so that even the tailored hat refuses to do without adornments. All the flowers that bloom in the spring, summer and autumn contribute their joyous colors and delicacy to all sorts of hats, but flowers never come into the world of fashion unattended, ribbons and laces always accompany them.

A little study of the three hats shown here—typical of the mode—will reveal that headwear, like all other apparel, is growing more dainty and more elaborate. Except for the plain felt sports hat, in high colors, or white, about everything in millinery is trimmed one way or another and even on these felts, clusters of flowers or flat rosettes of ribbon are used in the dressier types of sports hats.

There is a pretty fad for wearing a button-hole bouquet of flowers to match those on the hat, or at least including a flower like those in the hat trimming. Sometimes this small nosegay is attached to the hat by a length of very narrow ribbon, one end sewed in the head size and the other tied to the boutonniere. Or a cluster of flowers is worn on the cuff or lapel of the coat.

The Pampero
The pampero is the name given to the cold southwest wind which blows over the great southern plain of Argentina. Loosely the name is applied to any strong southwest wind in that region, but more especially to a rain squall or thunderstorm. At Buenos Aires, the capital of Argentina, the pampero is experienced, on an average, about a dozen times in the year, chiefly in the months of October, November and January.

Oldest Almanac?
Probably the almanac preserved in the British museum, which dates back 1,200 years before the birth of Christ, to the time of Rameses the Great of Egypt, is the oldest in the world. It is written on papyrus, in red ink, and covers a period of six years. The entries relate to religious ceremonies, to the fates of children born on given days, and to the regulation of business enterprises in accordance with planetary influences.

Prop Wanted
The colored janitor of a church in St. Louis had a violent temper. He was converted, but sometimes his temper would get the best of his good resolutions. On one occasion when he was repenting of one of his lapses, he made this prayer after he had asked the Lord to forgive him: "O Lord, prop me up on the leading side."—Christian Witness.

Worth Trying, Anyway

FRESNO MAN ATTACKS WIFE ON STREET WITH HAMMER

Fresno.—A. D. Green, retired capitalist and one of the best known men in this part of the state pounded his wife on the head with a hammer and probably fatally injured her, and was prevented from killing her outright only by the efforts of half a dozen men who succeeded in overpowering him and holding him for the police. P. F. Ryan, a truck driver and a powerful man, was the first to try to prevent an outright murder, but it was not until some street railroad men came to his assistance that he was able to subdue Green.

At police headquarters Green charged that his wife had railroaded him to the Clark sanitarium, and that she was trying to have him sent to an insane asylum permanently to get him out of the way.

U. S. Runners Break Record

Tokyo.—Charlie Paddock of Los Angeles and Loren Murchison, two of America's premier sprinters, while demonstrating their running abilities before a huge crowd of Japanese, including some royalty and many visiting Americans, incidentally established a couple of new records for the world to shoot at. Paddock, running in excellent form, covered 175 meters in 18.8 seconds, while Murchison, not to be outdone by his California brother, raced over 125 meters in 13 seconds flat.

CATHEDRAL BOMBING DEAD MOUNTS TO 150

Six Army Officers of High Rank and Thirty Subordinates Killed—Martial Law in Sofia to Curb Excited Populace.

Sofia, Bulgaria.—Latest figures show that 150 persons, including twenty women and ten children, were killed and 300 wounded in the explosion of an infernal machine in the cathedral of Sveti Kray during the funeral of General Georgheff. Six generals and thirty other officers were among those killed.

Sofia is in a state of ferment, the greatest excitement prevailing. Martial law has been proclaimed throughout the country, while the military authorities have ordered a curfew established, the streets to be cleared at 7:30 p. m.

Although all the members of the government were present at the funeral service in the cathedral none was seriously injured. Prender Tzan-koff was one of those injured, but was able to preside over the cabinet during an emergency session.

General Georgheff, whose funeral was being held when the explosion occurred, was assassinated in the streets, the assassination closely following an attempt upon the life of King Boris as he was motoring near Sofia.

The bomb apparently was detonated by clockwork mechanism. It had been concealed under the roof in the southern part of the cathedral and spent most of its force upon the crowd in that part of the edifice.

Upon learning of the disaster the king immediately went to the scene. The director of the central prison was assassinated in the street here but otherwise there were no disturbances in either Sofia or the province.

Troops and police searching the ruins, have recovered 150 dead. Many of the bodies can never be identified, so badly were they torn by force of the explosion.

All the hospitals and sanitariums of the city are filled with the seriously wounded, numbering more than 300, while there are many others who suffered minor injuries.

The tragedy occurred when nearly 2,000 persons had gathered to attend the funeral services.

Most of the killed were trapped by the falling walls and dome of the cathedral. A panic in the audience also took a heavy toll.

The police have closed all frontiers and only foreigners are permitted to leave the country. More than 1,000 communists already have been arrested in a series of nation wide raids.

Find 4800-Year-Old Shaft

Philadelphia.—The finding at Ur of the Chaldees of a great sandstone sculptured stela or monument of King Ur-Engur, who ruled Babylonia in 2300 B. C., was announced in London and Philadelphia. GLAND PATIENT IN RUNNING RACE AMAZES AUDIENCE

Breasting the tape with a final burst of almost super-human speed, with the sparkle of victory glinting in his eye, a man 73 years of age hurtled across the line a triumphant victor in a 50-yard race in the amazing time of 6 seconds. Onlookers were amazed to see this aged runner, who had his waning strength revived by glandular treatment, almost equal the world's running record for 50 yards. This almost unbelievable incident occurred at the annual field meet at one of California's state institutions.

It was another victory for Science, proving again that youthful vigor, stamina, ambition and power may be restored by reviving the vital glands of the body.

A SPLENDID ORGANIZATION

The Associated Firemen of San Mateo County, an organization of volunteer firemen of San Mateo county is growing in strength rapidly and is destined to become an important factor in this district. Built up from a solid foundation, with aims and objects all tending towards real public service this organization cannot help but forge ahead. The attendance at the meetings and the manner in which these sessions are conducted exemplifies the fact that the members mean business. This business is not only that of effective fire fighting; but also that of fire prevention, the promoting of the spirit of co-operation and good fellowship and the inauguration of an educational campaign, not only among members of fire companies, but also among the citizens in general. Officer by capable and representative men, selected purely on merit, the organization has developed from an idea into a reality. At the meeting held in San Bruno the forepart of this week, the question of the organization entering politics was brought up by two visiting guests at an informal luncheon, held after the business session.

One speaker gave as his opinion that the firemen, as an organization should enter politics, the other speaker warned against this course. This should give serious cause for reflection.

We live at present in an age of organized efforts and also, it is a fact that in practically all organized efforts, politics enters very materially into the scheme of things, either directly or at least indirectly. Party politics should be tabooed in an organization of this nature, but politics, in the broader sense and as we understand it, should be encouraged in the organization for that, to our mind, is the strongest weapon at the command of the associated firemen.

Politics will always be used against the organization by the opponents of any matter affecting the firemen, as has been proven in San Bruno. Consequently politics, in the broader sense must be studied and encouraged in the organization.

Concerted action and an united front at the polls are the effective methods of the present day and if used in the right direction, for the benefit of the majority constitutes one of the greatest blessings in a community.

IN REGARDS TO ADVERTISING

Advertising is an investment pure and simple. A merchant or business man who advertises expects to secure returns on his investment. There are two salient factors to be considered in newspaper advertising. The first is the number of people reached by the publication in which the ad appears. (This means the extent of the bona fide circulation of the publication.) The second is the class of people reached by the publication. For instance, it would be a waste of money to advertise high priced cars in a paper circulated among working people or to advertise a popular make of car at a low price in a publication circulated among bonding houses and people of great wealth.

The point we wish to make however is this: Circulation and class of circulation regulates the value of advertising in any publication. A newspaper with over 1,600 bona fide subscribers, for advertising of a general nature is of far more value than a publication of less than half that circulation in a community.

What they are interested in is: How extensive is its circulation and what class of people does it reach each week?

This, and this alone, is the real business principal of advertising.

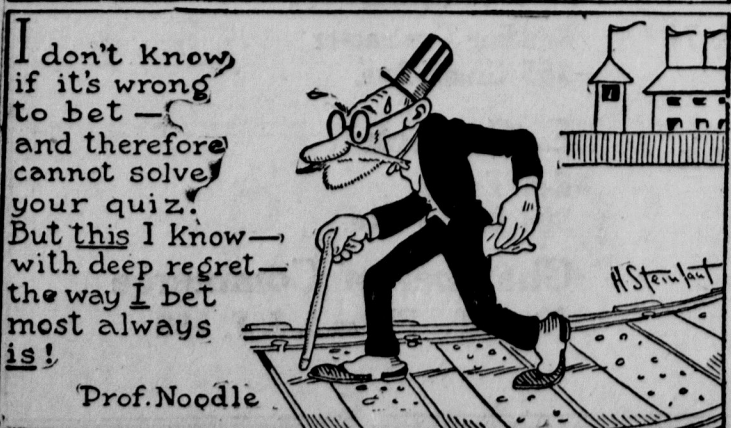

Wisdom Teeth

A fair percentage of persons never have wisdom teeth, declares Hygeia magazine. These teeth generally erupt some time between the eighteenth and twenty-fifth year, although in many cases eruption is delayed. Frequently wisdom teeth form but remain within the jaw bone and never erupt. The majority of such teeth do no harm, although occasionally it is necessary to remove them if there is pain or some sign of infection.

Temper Glassware

By tempering glassware its life can be greatly prolonged. To do this tempering the glass should be completely immersed in a pan of cool water and be brought slowly to a boil, kept there for a few minutes, and then allowed to cool off. Leave glassware in the water until cold. This method is especially valuable for ware which is to be subjected to extremes of heat and cold, as the breakage resistance is greatly increased.

CAMP'S FOSTER MOTHER TAKEN FROM SICK BED

Four Persons Now Held For Trial For Killing of Young Ranchman—Expect Confession to Clear Up the Mystery.

Hanford.—Mrs. Jennie Brown, foster-mother of Lee Camp, the young rancher found dead on his farm a fortnight ago, and heir of his $200,000 estate, was taken from her sick bed, charged with murder.

Maintaining a dogged silence, the woman was loaded into an ambulance and taken to the county hospital jail ward under guard of a matron.

Dr. Rosson pronounced her suffering acutely from heart trouble and laboring under a terrific strain.

W. S. Brown, 65-year-old husband of the woman, is the only occupant of the big white ranch house who escaped the charge of murdering the wealthy young Lee Camp.

Mrs. Brown's arrest closes the list of indictments voted by the county grand jury. Rumors that a fifth person had been accused in the mystery is unfounded.

It is rumored that District Attorney McKay, expects some one of the four under arrest to confess. This confession might involve a fifth person.

The district attorney holds a John Doe warrant for "emergency."

Those now under arrest, charged with Camp's murder, are:

Mrs. Brown, guiding spirit of the ranch, who up to the time of Camp's death, was a strong, forceful woman, attractive despite her years.

John Henry Tipton, her uncle and right hand man of the ranch. He first reported young Camp's "fatal accident," and fled the ranch soon after.

Frederick Mills, middle-aged divorced and venturesome, said to have been very friendly with Mrs. Brown before Camp's death. He took Camp's place as foreman. In jail at Hanford.

Robert McCamish, 18, one of the several foster-children, whom Mrs. Brown kept on her ranch.

The folks who know Tipton, Mills and McCamish believe they will talk, now that Mrs. Brown's dominating influence has been removed by her incarceration.

Young Camp was to have left the ranch to be married and live in the town. His sister, in the dead of night, ran away from the ranch years ago, was concealed by a neighbor, and finally married. Another adopted child, Pearl McCamish, sister of the boy now in jail, fled the place a few years later, believing some one was trying to poison her.

INDIANA MOTHER POISONS 4 CHILDREN—CONFESSES CRIME

Chicago.—Mrs. Anna Cunningham, prosaic middle-aged housewife, in the dim light in her cell at Crown Point, Ind., in a dreary, monotonous voice, with never a tear, confessed to murdering four of her children. She didn't poison her husband and oldest son, Harry—the first to die. She loved them. And the naive reason for killing her children was that she wanted to go to heaven and rejoin Pa and Harry and thought it best to take with her the best loved child of the moment.

Mae, the youngest girl, was spared because she was the least loved. And the only trace of anything like emotion in the voice of the mother who killed her four children was when she bitterly blamed Mae for neglect of her mother in favor of the giddy night life.

Echo of Tulare County Feud
Springville.—Echoes of the feud in which Fred C. McAllister, rancher of the Milo district lost his life late in January, and later acquittal of A. N. Harding, who declared he shot in self-defense, is heard in alleged admission of the Hardings that they are afraid to go onto the McAllister land after their cattle which have strayed there. They asked Sheriff Hill of Tulare county to send a man after them or to see that whoever went for them would be unhurt. The sheriff refused.

Entire Family Dies in Fire
Marshfield, Ore.—Trapped in their apartments, a family of five was burned to death and five were severely injured when flames destroyed a cafe, grocery store and an apartment house on the floor above. The dead: Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hopps and their three children. The fire started from the kitchen of the cafe and soon had all exits closed to the occupants of the apartment house above.

Petaluma Man Found Shot
Petaluma.—Alfonso S. Bernard, 66, cabinet maker, was found unconscious in his bed with two bullet holes in his head. He will probably die. Bernard had been ill. While it is believed that he had attempted to commit suicide, the police officers do not desire to leave any doubt and are conducting a thorough inquiry.

Balkans Involved in Plot
Berlin.—The Bulgarian legation in Berlin says the outrage of communists in Sofia was only part of a plot for a general Balkan revolt scheduled to begin this month. Preparations have been going on for months.

U. S. Money to Aid Italy
Rome.—In financial and political quarters, the belief is still expressed that negotiations are being carried on by the Italian government with American financiers to obtain aid in stabilizing the Italian budget.

Be Ready to Put Out Fire
Having a fire extinguisher on hand may mean the saving of valuables. You can make one yourself. All you have to do is to dissolve 20 pounds of common salt and 10 pounds of chloride of ammonia in 7 gallons of water. Pour this into thin glass quart bottles, cork well and seal to prevent evaporation. When you discover a blaze throw a bottle into the flame with sufficient force to shatter it or break off the neck of the bottle and scatter the contents on the fire.

SUPREME COURT HITS SCOFFLAWS

MANY PROMINENT CASES INVOLVED IN LATEST RULING

LIQUOR LAW BREAKERS' APPEALS ARE DENIED

Decisions Against Culprits Upheld in All Instances—Automobiles May Be Searched Without Warrant—Two Brewery Cases Reviewed.

Washington.—The firm attitude of the United States supreme court toward liquor law violators was manifested in an unusual number of cases involving appeals from convictions under the prohibition law.

In every decision handed down, the court upheld convictions in lower courts and again reaffirmed its decision that automobiles may be searched and liquor confiscated without the presence of a search warrant.

Among the convictions upheld were those of Mayor Roswell O. Johnson and other city officials of Gary, Ind., who were sentenced to prison in the cleanup of the northern Indiana city some months ago.

They had appealed their cases to the court on the ground they were convicted by insufficient evidence and by "inflammatory newspaper articles which created inimical public sentiment against them."

In two cases the court upheld the conviction and punishment of manufacturing establishments, the Guggenheimer Distilling company of Pittsburgh and the Keystone Brewing company of Lackawanna county, Pa.

In the Guggenheimer case the sentences of Lewis Brown and Louis Farkas to two years in prison and fines of $10,000 each, were affirmed.

Two ex-prohibition agents in Jersey City, John F. Downs and Terry Davis convicted in lower courts of accepting bribes for protecting liquor law violators, also were beneficiaries of the court's severity in liquor law cases. Their convictions and sentences were upheld.

In a case from Nashville, Tenn., wherein J. H. Mosely was convicted of transporting liquor and appealed his case on the ground that the search was illegal, the court decided against him and upheld the officers.

MEXICO AND RUSSIA DECLINE PARTICIPATION IN PARLEY

Geneva.—A sharply worded note from Mexico, which the league of nations officials refused to publish, and a caustic communication from Russia, in which both countries refuse to come to Geneva, give special advance publicity to next month's conference on control of traffic in arms. A telegram from George Tchitcherin, the soviet foreign minister, made it clear that the soviet government would have no extended relations with the league of nations until it is reorganized to suit soviet ideas. Mexico's refusal is understood to be due to resentment over the fact that she was not invited to be an original member of the league.

There is tendency here to contrast Russia's hostility to the conference with the willingness of the United States to participate, although that country is not a member of the league of nations.

Midwinter Conditions in East
New York.—The violent rain and snow storm throughout the east are estimated to have caused property damage of $1,500,000. Midwinter conditions prevailed in parts of upper New York state and New England. Along the Canadian border from two to sixteen inches of snow fell, and Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont were partially snowbound, with communication cut off in many places by gales that accompanied the storm. The western part of Pennsylvania was hard hit, the damage in Pittsburgh being estimated at $300,000. Crops were reported damaged in parts of the state.

Honolulu Welcomes Flagship
Honolulu.—The U. S. S. Seattle, carrying the highest ranking officers of the United States army and navy, and which is normally flagship of the grand fleet, received a picturesque welcome as she steamed into Honolulu harbor. Naval vessels from the Pearl Harbor base, together with the light-house tender Kukui carrying an official welcoming party, steamed out of the harbor and circled the warship.

Five Killings in One Day
Chicago.—This is open season for target practice in Chicago, with the result that there was five killings in twenty-four hours. Policemen appear to be the choice of gunmen, seven patrolmen having been shot in three days.

Court Absolves Crown Prince
Berlin.—The supreme court, completing its investigation of alleged war crimes by the former crown prince, finds that he never gave orders to burn or plunder and was not responsible for the executions by tribunals of his army corps.

Johnson Party Leaves Balboa
Balboa, Panama Canal Zone.—United States Senator Hiram Johnson left isthmian waters, April 20, on board the yacht Kemah. The vessel will proceed to San Francisco.

Formation of Ice
The surface of a river or lake freezes into solidity, first at the top; as more water freezes it forms beneath that already frozen. Ice forms over fresh water if the temperature of the air has been for a sufficient time at or below freezing point, but freezing is only possible after the whole mass of water has been cooled down to its point of maximum density, so that the subsequent cooling of the surface can give rise to no convection currents, which would cause diffusion of heat.

WESTERN MEAT NOTES

Cosmopolitan Entertainment
By Welfare Club

The Employees Welfare club of the Western Meat company, gave an interesting entertainment and dance last evening at Fraternal Hall. The program numbers were: Vocal selections by J. Baird; piano classics, Jim Osborne; a feature act designed and executed by Tom Allen entitled "The Clay Moulder," assisted by the Welfare beauty chorus composed of Joe Lopez, Ivan Boyer, Charley Elder, Lyle Woodman, Russell, and Hal Jacobs, with Hermank Raddatz as the prima donna. Juvenile entertainers de luxe, the Misses Babe Signorelli and Helen Laufer in interpretive and classic dances; Memories of Old Madrid, a fantasy of Spanish dance and song by Miss A. Turich and her music masters. "Uncorked in Cork," Irish wit as is by John Bowler; operatic selections by Miss Emelia de Prato, assisted by Rosalinda Davis at the Steinway; piano, accordion selections by Cesare Lencione; tenor solos by S. Taccola, accompanied by Rosalinda Davis; monologue by Scotty Butterworth.

Every number was loudly applauded by the large number of local people who turned out to see the best of South San Francisco's talent. After the entertainment, dancing continued until midnight to music furnished by the Sola Brothers orchestra.

The committee desires to express its appreciation for the hearty co-operation and support given by the various committees and by the members and their friends who helped by their presence, to make the affair the huge success that it was.

Signs of Spring—Hal Woods with a brilliant colored rose in his lapel. Hal says he raises them himself, a good gardener as well as an electrician.

Hal Jacobs learned to his sorrow that every one in South City is not as honest as they should be. Hal lost some of the essential working parts of his limosine the other evening.

That venerable old gentleman, Dad Cameron, came to work Monday with a shiner. We were able to find out that he was in an automobile accident Sunday, his sole injury being the discolored optic.

Herman Raddatz went bathing in Half Moon Bay last Sunday. He says that the salt water is easier on his rheumatism than the fresh water of the Wisconsin lakes.

False Teeth of Steel
Eight dentists are employed by Krupps in the department for making false teeth of steel.

Yale Captain Hard Hitter

Captain Winslow Lovejoy, star football player of Yale, last year, has prospects of being the heaviest hitter on the Yale nine this year. Lovejoy out for practice is here shown batting out a long one.

Just a Year Ago Today

It is just a year ago today that I started a Savings Account with the Citizen's National Bank and today I have a neat balance to my credit. I'll tell you what, it does make a fellow feel good to know that he is ready to meet an emergency. It is so easy to start saving, and by following a regular savings plan it is easy to save. Better start saving.

FRESHMAN CLASS GIVES PARTY

The High and Low Freshman classes had a party on Friday evening, April 17. The earlier part of the evening was spent in dancing and playing games. Later refreshments were served.

Many of the members of the faculty attended the party. Mr. and Mrs. Weller were sponsors for the party.

CHEMISTRY CLASS VISITS STEEL WORKS

The members of the chemistry class visited the Pacific Coast Steel company on Tuesday, April 21. H. J. Holt chaperoned the students and under his instruction they were shown the process of making steel. Those who made up the party were Misses Matilda Bernardo, Zilpha Dunlap, Silvia Thomas, Wilma Davidson, Jean et Jones and Messrs. George Wholer, Philip Nolan, Everett Rolff, Virgil Marcel Thomas, Fred Junker and Edwin Kingsland.

TYPING DEMONSTRATION

On Tuesday, April 21, a typewriting demonstration was given in the commercial department by a typing instructor from the Armstrong school. The demonstration included many short tests given to a student from that school. The main purpose of this demonstration was to show the students how to type and receive the best results. South San Francisco High school will enter in the county contest for typewriting and shorthand. Many of the students are working very hard in preparing for the contest and numerous high records have been made.

NEWSY NEWS

On Friday, April 17, the High Juniors went to San Francisco to have their pictures taken. Later they attended the Warfield theatre.

The Low Juniors are going to have a theatre party on May 8.

A committee has been appointed from the Low Junior class for the purpose of making plans for their class candy sale.

Tickets for the play, "The Charm School," which will be staged on May 1, may be secured from any of the members of the High Senior class.

The High Freshman class had a candy sale on Wednesday, April 15. The net profits were $4.25.

The High School hike has been postponed. A definite date has not been set, but it will probably be on May 2.

DAWES IN ATTACK ON SENATE RULES

TOO GREAT POWER FOR BLOCKING SENATE ACTION

FILIBUSTER OUTGROWTH OF IRRESPONSIBILITY

Vice-President Tells Boston Audience He Is In For a Finish Fight Against Use of Rules For Barter—Crowd Cheers.

Boston.—In the presence of a thousand of "the solid men of Boston"—as the old rhyme begins—Vice-President Dawes waded into the United States senate's rules again and in thirty seconds he had his hearers yelling their delight and approbation.

And in three minutes he had them on their feet shouting their allegiance to him in the fight which he promised them he is going to keep before the country as long as he is vice-president of the United States and president of the senate.

"Now," he said, "whenever I want to get down to the vernacular, as I'm inclined to do, I have to remember my office. But I'm going to say something just the same, and I'm going to say it because Senator William M. Butler is here.

"I see before me representatives not alone of Massachusetts, but of all New England, and I say to you that unless I can serve as a conduit for the pressure of public opinion on the United States senate I can't do anything.

"Reform of senate rules involves some of the principles for which our ancestors fought. Did they have in their minds any idea that any one of ninety-six senators could exercise a veto power greater than that of the president of the United States?

"Did they have any idea that when laws might have the concurrent action of two houses and, again, the confirmation of the supreme court—did they have any idea that in the hands of one senator there would ever be power to block that action and opportunity to use that power as barter in the matter of legislation in which the senator might be personally interested?

"That power has been built up on irresponsibility. That power has been built up, not by law, not by the constitution, but by senate rules.

"Now, I want, Senator Butler, to know how you feel about it. As many of you as think it ought to be changed, get up!"

"Get up!" came like a pistol shot. Then he reached over from his place at the high banquet table in the new palace of the Boston Chamber of Commerce on historic Milk street and he hauled a United States senator to his feet—ponderous William Morgan Butler, Henry Cabot Lodge's successor—and he made him pledge himself up to the hilt to some of the most important men in Massachusetts that he would work for a reform of the senate's rules.

The gist of General Dawes' speech was that all he said about the senate on the day he was inaugurated vice-president now goes double and that he is going to keep on saying it.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC OFFICES RETURN TO SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco.—The retirement of Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the board of directors and executive committee of the Southern Pacific, on May 31, will result in the return of the executive offices of the railroad to San Francisco. While Kruttschnitt will be succeeded as chairman of the executive committee and board of directors by Henry W. DeForest, financial director of the railroad, the actual supervision of the road's operations, heretofore exercised by the chairman, will be passed on to William Sproule, president, and Sproule will maintain his offices here.

The financial headquarters of the company will remain in New York. DeForest remaining in charge of financial affairs in his capacity as executive committee chairman.

U. S. GOVERNMENT BEGINS SUIT AGAINST STEEL CORPORATION

Philadelphia.—Charging that Charles M. Schwab, acting in the dual capacity of director general of the United States Fleet corporation and head of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, favored the Bethlehem interests in awarded war ship building contracts, the government has started suit against Schwab's corporation and four subsidiaries for return of alleged over-payments amounting to $15,000,000.

The alleged over-payments were above the 10 per cent profit which the government allowed contractors on war work. It is asserted in the suit.

Crowds Throng Liquor Store

Regina, Sask.—Crowds gathered in front of liquor stores long before opening by the provincial government under a new liquor law. The beverage was sold in bottles from stores controlled by the government.

Sacramento Man Murdered

Sacramento.—Joseph Litzberg, 42, pawnbroker, was killed by bandits who attempted to rob his shop. The bandits answer descriptions of Joseph Tanko and Floyd Hall, escaped slayers from San Quentin.

Pensions for Early Wars

The United States allowed pensions to 62,069 survivors of the American Revolution or their widows; 87,048 who had taken part in the War of 1812; 7,619 for the Mexican war, and 1,389 for other early wars.

If as much time were given to public affairs as is now devoted to crossword puzzles there would no longer be any need of worrying about the future.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

NO MERCY FOR RECKLESS AUTO DRIVERS

Judge Edward Farrell of South San Francisco, is determined to check reckless driving in the district under his jurisdiction and will hereafter impose the maximum penalty according to a statement made on Tuesday night.

This week L. Barsulghia of South San Francisco appeared before the judge on a charge of reckless driving, having been arrested by Constable J. Wallace. Judge Farrell adjudged the man guilty and fined him $100 or fifty days in jail. Accused paid the fine.

Hereafter, however, Judge Farrell intends to be even more strict and reckless drivers will be assessed a heavier fine or jail sentence and also they will have their license suspended.

THIS IS EASY FOR YE EDITOR

On our first official visit to the city hall on Monday night, we met Mayor McNellis and the members of the board of trustees. After congratulating these gentlemen said: "All that we ask of you is that you report matters transacted at our meetings in an honest and accurate manner."

"Tell the whole business, but tell it honestly." As this has always been our policy we mentally said to ourselves, "Say this is going to be easy."

NEW ZONE ORDINANCE PASSED BY TRUSTEES

A new zoning ordinance, dividing Redwood City into four groups, a residential district, a second residential or apartment house district, a business district and an industrial district, was passed at the meeting of the city trustees Monday.

NEW LATERAL TO SKYLINE ROAD

Redwood City.—A survey for a proposed lateral between El Camino Real and the Skyline boulevard, being an extension of Hillside Drive in North Burlingame, was submitted to the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, Monday, by County Surveyor and Engineer George A. Kneese.

Accompanying the survey was a deed from the Panama Realty Company, covering a right of way for the road, which will be approximately a mile in length and will join the boulevard near the point where the private road of the Crystal Springs Country club is now located. The lateral will enter the boulevard in the form of a huge Y, one branch toward the north and one toward the south.

The work of construction is to be done from road funds of the First Road District, under the direction of Supervisor Thos. L. Hickey, who expects to do the entire work from his available fund without the necessity of levying any special tax.

The new road will follow the general line of the old wagon road which formerly led to Switzer's Ranch, passing to the west of the Burlingame Municipal Reservoir and following the top of the ridge above the Canyon road. A good wide rock foundation will be laid and it is planned to surface the same with gravel at present, with eventually a paved surface.

Formulation of a new program of work for the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce, Federated, will be undertaken by a special committee just appointed for the purpose. It is expected that the outline will be ready for presentation at the next meeting in May.

The members of the committee include Fred Cunningham of South San Francisco, vice-president of the federal chambers of commerce; Gilbert D. Ferrell of San Mateo, and Frank Towne of Redwood City.

It is expected that the problems of providing an adequate water supply for the peninsula communities and of rapid transportation will be prominent on the program of work to be undertaken.

At the last meeting of the Peninsula Chambers of Commerce, Federated, such matters as dredging a bar off South San Francisco, home financing and building and concerted advertising, were dropped as it was felt that they are essentially local concerns. Securing the Dumbarton vehicular bridge and the Bayshore highway which have formed important projects for study for some time, are now practically out of the hands of the organization.

EXECUTIVE BOARD SETS DATE

The executive board of the Pacific Coast association of fire chiefs of whom the local chief Ben Truax is a member met on Tuesday in San Francisco to set the date of the Fire Chiefs' Convention to be held in Seattle. They voted to hold the convention, September 21 to 24, 1925.

Fire chiefs from all sections of the country will be in attendance.

Indians to Hold Big Convention

"The Peace Sign"—right hand held high—has been adopted as symbol for the National Indian convention in Ponca City, Okla., May 18-24. Seven thousand Indians from various sections of the United States, Canada and Mexico are expected to attend.

OVER 11,000 CALLS A DAY

The largest installation of semi-automatic telephone equipment west of Chicago, has been installed in the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's general office building, San Francisco. This installation is the latest word in modern telephone equipment. 600 stations within the building are provided for. Each station can be either used as an automatic switching station or as one manually operated. For inter-communication between departments, the calling party may dial the desired number and get the party direct or the call may be put through the branch exchange operator. Central is either dialed or called through the Company's branch exchange switch board.

All incoming calls pass through the operator's board. 90 trunk lines connect the P. G. and E. board with the Central telephone office board.

The Company's general office receives an average of 4000 outside calls per day, which must be switched by these operators to various departments.

There are in excess of 7000 outgoing calls per day.

OCEAN TRADE

World Trade Keeps Tens of

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

There is a vast section of the United States that may be classed as inland. Most of its people never see the sea. But even though many do not realize it, they owe a great and mounting debt to salt water and to the complicated warp and woof of trade lines that ships engaged in world trade are constantly weaving.

Tradition says that Phoenicians or other tribes on the north shore of the Persian gulf were the world's first sea-traders. If this is true ocean trade began on an eventful day when restless, primitive man, piling his surplus grain and skins into his baggala, hoisted his clumsy mat sail and put to sea, venturing away to visit and barter for the first time on that distant, unknown isle whose peaks he could discern on clear days from the heights of his own coast home.

What a picture to conjure with—that first "sailing day!"

Sea-traders are the most practical geographers. Columbus and Magellan were the kings of explorers, of course; Drake and Hawkins were gentlemanly pirates; Peary and Scott courageous scientists, whom the world is proud to honor.

But the sea-trader! Whether he runs his own foul little tramp schooner or sits in New York or London and directs a great merchant fleet, he must know not only his map, his ports, his winds, currents, and climates, but his people, their politics, their products, needs, whims and manners, their language and their prejudices.

How many of the once blank spaces on the map have been filled in for us, not only as to the names and locations of towns, mountains, and rivers, but also as regards the true characteristics of a people, by the world's great traders, like the fur buyers and the tea merchants or typical Yankee trade scouts.

Trade and Geography.

A hasty sketch of the high points in the history of world trade proves how much our map and its peculiarities have influenced all buying and selling.

It was the geographic pioneering of bold Latin sea-rovers in the fifteenth century that gave Europe its first adventure in ocean commerce. Up to that time, trade between nations had been carried on by caravans or mere coast boats. Even to this day it is possible to trace some of the old overland "silk routes" from China to Syria, to Poland, and to the Rhine; they always began in one great political center and ended in another.

In those days, too, sea-traders with cargoes from the Levant began to feel their way across the Mediterranean, while Chinese junks even ventured around to India and up the Tigris. Incidentally, it was this timid venturing along coast routes that maintained the commercial supremacy of Italy from Roman times till the Renaissance. Italy's boot-like peninsula making of her a great mole or pier extending down into the Mediterranean.

Because of the warlike Turks and their depredations on the caravans that followed the overland trail of Marco Polo, Europe became more and more anxious for a sea route to the legendary riches of India. And finally, thanks to doughty old Vasco da Gama, one of the boldest geographers of his day, the stanch windjammers of Lisbon reached the west coast of India. Six years previously, the greatest of Italian navigators had put to sea flying the flag of Spain and found a New World.

Thus these daring sailors not only put new continents on the map, to the consternation of the geographers of that day, but they brought on the greatest political and economic crisis that the world has ever known.

For two centuries Europe was shaken as a result of these voyages, and the centers of power shifted from the Mediterranean to the Atlantic coast—that is, from Venice and Genoa to Spain and Portugal; then to France, to Holland, and finally to England.

When bigger ships came into use, and when the importation of gold, diamonds, slaves, silks, and spices was followed by the import of more bulky raw materials, which were in turn exported in the form of manufactured goods, England crowded ahead. Her splendid geographical position, her harbors, her coal and iron mines, enabled her to gain the mastery of the seas.

Entire Family Dies in Fire

Marshfield, Ore.—Trapped in their apartments, a family of five was burned to death and five were severely injured when flames destroyed a cafe, grocery store and an apartment house on the floor above. The dead: Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hopps and their three children. The fire started from the kitchen of the cafe and soon had all exits closed to the occupants of the apartment house above.

In ocean trade. Whose heart does not thrill at the memory of those proud days of the Flying Cloud, the Belle of the Sea, or the Red Rover, when America carried 92 per cent of all her overseas trade in her own bottoms! When our "rod-headed, mackerel-tailed" clippers could make the Calcutta run in 95 days; when the famous James Baine logged 21 knots and made a world record!

The story of the misfortunes of the sixties and the decline of our merchant marine is familiar. Even when Roosevelt sent the fleet around the world, we had to depend on foreign colliers.

But today, from Memel to Melbourne, our merchant ships—stupendous heritage of the World War—are poking their newly painted noses into every harbor of the world.

Every week our factories turn out shiploads of goods above our own requirements, for which we must find markets abroad, in competition not only with our late allies but with other nations now struggling desperately for economic life. And now, as in that keenly competitive commercial era of the old Venetian traders, no actor plays a more interesting or adventurous role than the consul.

In the State department at Washington there's a big map of the world bristling with colored pins, like a war map of the general staff. This map shows where our consuls are posted. There is a dense flock of pins covering Europe and Latin America and thin patches over Africa and Asia.

The picturesque nomad of Arabia or Turkestan, though he contributes occasional wool and hides to the world's trade, is not really worth his space on the map, judged by modern economic standards. So gradually in Egypt, Mesopotamia, and western Siberia, irrigation, railways, and the stubborn tide of immigrant farmers are forcing the nomad to abandon his roving life and go to work or go the way of Lo, our poor Indian.

In the Levant the geographical consequences of war have affected the trade of the world to a striking degree. Boundary lines have twisted, caliphs have gone down and kings come up. Over all is the shadow of the famous Bagdad railway and the odor of oil.

Persia, fighting bankruptcy for 400 years, is suddenly galvanized into new life by the Anglo-Persian Oil company's great works on the Karun.

A whole world watches the mandate experiments in Mesopotamia and Syria, speculates on the problems of Palestine and its Jewish home.

Old caravan trails, blazed long ago by Hittites, Medes, and Persians, are being abandoned as new governments, new borders, and new railways bring new channels of traffic and sweeping changes in the trade geography of this old Bible land.

Vast Exchange of Goods.

Our trade current from the tropics has grown vastly in recent years; so has our exchange of goods with Asia and the East Indies, where we trade machinery, drugs, flour, and manufactures for silks, fibers, hides, coffee, tea, and rice.

Borne by these same currents, the Yankee type of culture is carried to all quarters of the globe.

From the mud walls of Bombay to the billboards of Brussels, our familiar advertising words and pictures, advance agents of foreign trade, cry a rude Yankee welcome to the wandering American.

It is the very vastness of our own industries and the immensity of our agriculture which cause many Americans to overlook the fact that each year, as we grow, we must import more and more, to balance industry. Latin America is our greatest storehouse. From her we draw hides, asphalt, tobacco, rubber, sisal and fruits, as well as oil, silver, copper, zinc, wolfram, vanadium, and iron ore.

Without Cuba we should be quite sugarless and unhappy, and what a change in breakfast habits from Maine to California if Brazil were to refuse that 98 per cent of our coffee which now comes from her shores.

Perhaps some of the factories in your own home town would have to shut down were we to be suddenly cut off from the stream of raw materials that flows to us from the China sea.

A mere fragment this, in the great story of trade. But what a vivid, smashing world drama it is, this age-long battle of puny man, this magnificent struggle on land and sea, to live!

LEGISLATIVE LETTER

By C. W. TURNER

Sacramento.—The final windup of the legislature, this year, as always, will result in a large number of bills—hundreds of them in fact—being left on the files in the various committees.

A legislative session always starts off with the announcement that the number of bills is to be few and the length of the session short; and the close of the session always finds the number of bills enormous, and the length of the session two or three weeks more extended than was contemplated. This year will furnish no exception to that rule.

One measure that will probably attract very little attention in comparison with others far less important is a proposal to grant old age pensions. The idea is to pension the aged so they can live with their families or friends and not be forced to seek a final asylum in some public institution. The plan has been tried in Pennsylvania and is said to be a success there. Of course it is in vogue in many countries of Europe.

To secure a pension the pensioner must have resided in California for fifteen years; must not have an income of a dollar per day; and must not have served a jail term of four months in a case where there was no fine alternative. Of course if this measure proves a success, it will mean an ever increasing number of pensioners as the years go by and the population increases. The proposed pension is to be about a dollar a day.

Another measure of general interest is a bill fathered by Senator Inman which provides for the regulation of auto or tourist camps. There are camps of this character along the state highways from Redding to San Diego, near the various towns and cities. Each of the camps must take out a license from the state board of health, costing $25 a year. The cost, however, is simply imposed so as to give the board control over and the right to regulate the camps. The board is to inspect each of said camps and is charged to see that they have all necessary sanitary and proper conveniences; are kept clean and decently regulated. For violations of the act fines as high as $500 and six months imprisonment are allowed.

A constitutional amendment will be submitted to the people at the next election to exempt secondary schools accredited to the state university from taxation.

The effort to curtail the powers of the superintendent of public instruction by the passage of a constitutional amendment creating the office of director of education to be appointed by the governor, died in the committee on constitutional amendments.

It was declared to be a measure in the interests of putting the office under political control.

It is proposed that in future the legislature and all state offices shall be elected purely on personal grounds, and not from a party standpoint and party is to be absolutely abolished in state affairs.

A measure by Assemblyman Dillingham of Placer county is of considerable interest to the counties in which the principal rivers or streams of the state originate. It is a bill which proposes to provide for the reservation for future use of a certain percentage of the water so that those who live in the counties shall have the right to protect themselves against having the water drained from their home streams for the benefit of the communities living below them.

The measure is declared absolutely necessary if the mountain counties are not to be ruined by water drainage.

The governor desires it understood that he will give careful consideration to all communications sent to his office in favor of, or opposed to any bill that may come before him. He desires to get the views of as many of his constituents as possible on all measures that come before him for his signature and realizing that it will be impossible for all the people interested to come to Sacramento, he invites those who care to, to write, promising to give due consideration to what they may have to say on the several bills in their letters. The plan of correspondence, he adds, is in the interest of economy and assisting all the people to express their views on pending measures.

After the most animated debate, the state senate has yet enjoyed, the Breed bill, increasing the tax on gasoline was adopted. This measure should give the state many new roads during the coming two years. According to the state controller the highway commission has some $5,000,000 besides this additional amount so that there will be about $30,000,000 available for new roads.

Transfer of the control of San Francisco harbor from the state to the city of San Francisco was voted by 21 to 19 in the senate. Under the terms of the bill, San Francisco would take over the entire management of the harbor and the San Francisco harbor bond would assume all of the present bonded indebtedness of the harbor. The measure is similar to bills introduced in the past sessions of the legislature for transferring the control of the harbor from the state to the city.

State-Wide Safety Campaign Being Perfected

Co-ordinating the interests of every community in California, a state-wide campaign promoting street and highway safety is now being organized by the California Safety Conference under the auspices of the California Development Association, the California State Automobile association, and the Automobile Club of Southern California.

A comprehensive program of safety education and activity that will reach into every city and town in the state is now being prepared and district organization is expected to be perfected for the active launching of the campaign early in June.

According to plans outlined today by D. V. Nicholson, assistant secretary of the State Automobile association and chairman of the program committee of the conference, the activities of civic clubs, women's clubs and organizations, the Parent-Teachers' association, and local safety organizations in every community will be co-ordinated with the general state-wide campaign.

Preliminary studies of traffic conditions and problems in every county in the state are now being made and preliminary district organizations are being affected by Mrs. Helen Holt of the women's department of the California Development Association.

Plans outlined today call for the division of the state into five districts. Each district will be headed by a district chairman and county, city and other local organizations will be worked out in each district. Each local organization will make a study of its own peculiar automobile traffic problems and will co-operate with the police and traffic authorities in improving conditions.

Educational work is to be carried on through the schools, the press and other agencies. Where practicable public school traffic reserves, similar to those organized by the Automobile Association in San Francisco and Berkeley will be put into operation in other cities. By co-ordinating all public safety activities under one organization it is expected that the entire state will show a material decrease in the number of deaths and injuries caused by traffic accidents.

STREET COMMITTEE WILL GET BUSY

Fire Chief Ben Truax stated at the regular board of trustees meeting on Monday night, that certain sections of the San Bruno road were in urgent need of repairs. Several members of the board also declared that other sections of the city needed looking after in this request. "We will turn these matters over to the street committee with instructions to get busy," declared Mayor McNellis.

A petition signed by eight property owners, requesting the paving of the alley and on Acacia and Eucalyptus between Grand and Baden be paved, was received and turned over to Engineer George Kneese.

In connection with the Butler road, between the Wire Works and the Western Pipe Co.'s plant, Engineer Kneese stated that he was preparing a description for dedication of this road to the city. In this connection a communication was read from Mr. Shaw of the South San Francisco Land company, stating that they will dedicate this road to the city.

ORDINANCE NO. 134

ORDINANCE GRANTING TO PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY, A CALIFORNIA CORPORATION, ITS SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS, THE RIGHT, PRIVILEGE AND FRANCHISE OF USING FOR THE PURPOSE OF TRANSMITTING, CONDUCTING AND DISTRIBUTING GAS TO BE SOLD AND USED FOR HEATING AND POWER PURPOSES, OR ANY THEREOF, ANY AND ALL MAINS, PIPES AND CONDUITS IN THE HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND ALLEYS OF THE CITY OF SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, IN THE COUNTY OF SAN MATEO, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, TO THE CITY OF SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, AND ITS INHABITANTS WITH GAS LIGHT.

WHEREAS any person or any corporation organized for such purpose under the laws of the State of California, which was, on the 10th day of October, 1911, using the public highways, streets and alleys of said City of South San Francisco, for the purpose of supplying said City and its inhabitants with gas light, under and pursuant to the provisions of Section 19 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, has the right to continue to use said public highways, streets and alleys and to install, maintain and use mains, pipes and conduits for the purpose aforesaid upon the terms and conditions set forth in said Section;

AND WHEREAS it is deemed by the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco that the franchise hereinafter defined be granted upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, NOW, THEREFORE, The Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. The right, privilege and franchise of transmitting, conducting and distributing gas to be sold and used for heat and power purposes, or any thereof, all and singular the mains, pipes and conduits which the grantee of this franchise has installed, maintained, or used or shall hereafter install, maintain or use in the public highways, streets and alleys of said City of South San Francisco for the purpose of supplying said City and its inhabitants with gas light, is hereby granted to Pacific Gas and Electric Company, a California corporation, its successors and assigns, for the term of twenty-five (25) years from and after the time when this ordinance shall go into effect, upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth.

SECTION 2. All construction done under the authority of this ordinance shall be done subject to the general supervision and direction of the proper authorities of said City and in compliance with all valid ordinances and regulations which are now or hereafter shall be enacted and prescribed by said City under its police power. Work under this franchise shall be prosecuted diligently and in good faith so as to meet and fill the reasonable needs of the inhabitants of said City of South San Francisco.

SECTION 3. The grantee of said right, privilege and franchise, its successors or assigns, shall during the life of said franchise pay to said City of South San Francisco two (2) per cent. of the gross annual receipts of said grantee, its successors or assigns, arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise. No percentage shall be paid for the first five (5) years succeeding the date of this franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually and in even cash payment is not made said franchise shall be forfeited, provided, however, that if said franchise be a renewal of a right already in existence the payment of said percentage of gross receipts shall begin at once.

SECTION 4. This ordinance shall go into effect thirty (30) days after its final publication and publication unless suspended from going into operation by a referendum petition filed as provided by law, and before becoming effective shall be published once in "The Enterprise," a newspaper of general circulation published in said City of South San Francisco.

Passed by the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco on the 20th day of April, 1925, by the following vote: Ayes, 5; Nays, 0.

ATTEST:

AND WHEREAS it is deemed by the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco that the franchise hereinafter defined be granted upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, NOW, THEREFORE, The Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. The right, privilege and franchise of transmitting, conducting and distributing electric current to be sold and used for heat and power purposes, or any thereof, all and singular the pole and wire electric transmission lines and other electric conductors, appliances and apparatus which the grantee of this franchise shall hereafter maintain and use in the public highways, streets and alleys of said City of South San Francisco, for the purpose of supplying said City and its inhabitants with electric light, is hereby granted to Pacific Gas and Electric Company, a California corporation, its successors and assigns, for the term of twenty-five (25) years from and after the time when this ordinance shall go into effect, upon the terms and conditions in this ordinance set forth.

SECTION 2. All construction done under the authority of this ordinance shall be done subject to the general supervision and direction of the proper authorities of said City and in compliance with all valid ordinances and regulations which are now or hereafter shall be enacted and prescribed by said City under its police power. Said City of South San Francisco shall retain and hereby reserves all rights which it now possesses or shall hereafter possess to enact, in the exercise of its police powers, ordinances for the protection, health and safety of said City and its inhabitants, including the establishment of underground districts for electric lines and conductors in said City. Work under this franchise shall be prosecuted diligently and in good faith so as to meet and fill the reasonable needs of the inhabitants of said City of South San Francisco.

SECTION 3. The grantee of said right, privilege and franchise, its successors or assigns, shall during the life of said franchise pay to said City of South San Francisco two (2) per cent. of the gross annual receipts of said grantee, its successors or assigns, arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise. No percentage shall be paid for the first five (5) years succeeding the date of this franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually; and in the event said payment is not made, said franchise shall be forfeited, provided, however, that if said franchise be a renewal of a right already in existence, the payment of said percentage of gross receipts shall begin at once.

SECTION 4. This ordinance shall go into effect thirty (30) days from its final passage and publication, unless suspended from going into operation by a referendum petition filed as provided by law, and before becoming effective shall be published once in "The Enterprise," a newspaper of general circulation published in said City of South San Francisco.

Passed by the Board of Trustees of the City of South San Francisco on the 20th day of April, 1925, by the following vote: Ayes, 5; Nays, 0.

La discussione intorno al Giardino Pubblico

Alla riunione del Consiglio Municipale che ebbe luogo lunedì sera, si riaprì la discussione intorno ai venti acri di terreno offerti dalla South San Francisco Land Company alla città per la creazione del parco nel distretto di Orange Avenue, e le probabilità sono tali che una soluzione del problema sarà raggiunta alla riunione preparativa che avrà luogo venerdì sera.

Public Park Discussed

At the board of trustees meeting on Monday night the matter of the twenty acres of land which is offered by the South San Francisco Land Company, to the city for park purposes in the Orange Avenue district was again discussed and the probabilities are that some solution of the problem will be arrived at on Friday at an adjourned meeting of the board.

La Commissione Stradale in Piena Attività

Fu pure deciso che diverse riparazioni stradali, le quali furono riportate d'essere di grande necessità, siano riferite alla commissione delle strade pubbliche. Seduta stante, fu dato ordine, al segretario comunale, di scrivere alla compagnia dell'acqua, richiedendo che siano installati idranti doppi di fronte alla chiesa Cattolica, quella Metodista, alle scuole tecniche e nelle vicinanze della fattoria "Fontana Food Products Co."

Street Commission Will Get Busy

At the board of trustees meeting on Monday night, it was decided to turn over to the street commission the matter of certain street repairs, which were reported as being urgently needed at this time. Also the clerk was instructed to write to the water company requesting that double hydrants be installed in front of the Catholic church, the Methodist church and the high school as well as in front of the Fontana Food Products company.

Estesi Ringraziamenti

Il consigliere municipale A. J. Eschelbach, presidente del comitato per la celebrazione del giorno di Orange Avenue, a mezzo della stampa locale, pubblicamente ringrazia tutti i cittadini che col loro lavoro manuale, domenica scorsa, aiutarono all'apertura dell'Orange Avenue. Il comitato ed il consiglio ringraziano pure tutte le ditte ed i privati che aiutarono con donazioni e contribuzioni.

Entra in Un Nuovo Ramo d'Affari

Col primo di maggio, D. W. Ratto, cassiere della Banca di South San Francisco e per 17 anni connesso con la suddetta istituzione, lascia la Banca per dedicarsi in affari per conto suo.

Il sig. Ratto sta contemplando di stabilire un ufficio di mediatori (real estate) nel locale ora occupato dalla Western Union Telegraph Co. al 319 Grand Avenue. La compagnia telefonica occuperà il locale recentemente lasciato vacante dalla Pacific Telephone company. Mr. Ratto il quale fu segretario della Banca sin 1912, e' da 5 anni residente di South San Francisco e vede un grande futuro per questa città e per il suo nuovo ramo d'affari. Priormente la sua venuta alla Banca di South San Francisco, il sig. Ratto, il quale e' un "figlio della California" nato in San Francisco, era connesso con la Banca d'Italia di quella città. Avendo lui esercito l'agenzia di assicurazioni d'ogni genere per i passati 15 anni, contempla di continuare il medesimo genere d'affari in connessione all'agenzia di beni e stabili. La lunga schiera d'amici suoi gli augurano i migliori successi di persona molto conosciuta e per un uomo di parola, un provento uomo d'affari e un buon propugnatore del benessere pubblico.

Non possiamo lasciar passare inosservata la festa di beneficenza che il South San Francisco Grove No. 171 U. O. O. D., diede domenica a beneficio di due membri di detta istituzione da molti mesi ammalati.

Sin dalle prime ore del meriggio, la sala da ballo del Fraternal Hall era gremita da una folla di giovani persone delle gambe intrepide ed irresistibili alla musica che invitava nelle mollezze delle danze.

Il comitato organizzatore non lesinò affatto nei preparativi ed e' lodevole che anche questa volta il successo e' stato completo tanto finanziariamente quanto dal lato morale.

Durante la serata l'intervento fu enorme. La colonia italiana ha risposto degnamente all'appello lanciato dalla massima organizzazione italiana di South San Francisco.

Queste feste di carattere familiare dovrebbero essere più frequenti in colonia. Esse sono un movimento per tener sempre viva quella sociabilità così tanto caratteristica nella nostra stirpe.

Siamo informati che sabato avranno luogo le elezioni dei nuovi ufficiali del So. S. F. Grove ed e' dovere che tutti i membri siano presenti per compiere il loro dovere per il bene dell'Ordine.

INCORPORATION OF SAN CARLOS AS CITY

Incorporation of San Carlos into a city will be sought as a result of a mass meeting held at that community Monday, at which it was decided to present a petition to the county board of supervisors asking that it call an incorporation election.

The petition will be presented in the middle of May. E. R. Burton is heading the committee, which succeeds the former committee appointed to look into the advisability of incorporation.

The former committee reported at the meeting last night and dissolved. It consisted of Asa Hull, Frank Drake, J. W. Davis and E. J. Cowgill. Another meeting will be held as soon as the petition is prepared and circulated.

The two leagues, composed of young people, meet at 6:30 p. m. Mr. Earl Hargraves leads the fine choir at St. Paul's. The public will find cordial welcome at all services.

From Bad to Worse

"Your handwriting is very bad, indeed," said a man to a young college friend who was more addicted to sport than study. "You really ought to learn to write better." "Yes," returned the young man; "it's all very well for you to tell me that, but if I were to write better, people would be finding out how I spell."

Discovering Who's Who

By M. and R. M. TERRELL

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

BARTHOLOMEW hadn't been secretary to old William W. Twohey, the old millionaire, long enough to sense every weather signal. Had Bartholomew not been so absorbed with the photograph he held in his hand he might have taken a second look at the old man.

"Pardon me, Mr. Twohey," Bartholomew began, "I wanted to show you, sir, my little—"

"Bartholomew! Good!" he barked. In his nervousness Bartholomew laid his photograph on the desk.

"Yes, sir," he said. "Call Grimsaw Detective Agency. Now," snapped the old man.

"Personal. Never mind what. Do as told. Allan F. Grimsaw. Make appointment. This morning."

Allan F. Grimsaw himself received the peppy old old magnate. William W., droning like a phonograph, started the conversation.

"Grimsaw? Course, seen your photograph. Good! Only man can help me. Know me? William W.—"

"Sit down, Mr. Twohey," interrupted gently the detective manager. William W. fumbled in his pockets.

"Confidential," he muttered. "Youngest kid, Gene. Out in Los Angeles. Wilshire university. Student, understand? Only nineteen."

"You don't mean—"

"Certainly do. Young blood. Impulsive. Gene crazy to get married."

"You send best operative, must be young, to Los Angeles today; understand?"

"I do. Enter Wilshire—"

"University; that's it. Don't care what it costs. Save kid from pitfall any price. Gene crazy to go in 'movies,' too!"

"Naturally!"

"No, any way. Dumbbell on subject, like getting married, too. Prevent both. Must have close chum."

"Er—have you a photograph of your—"

"Here. Can't find later one. Shows Gene's face. Hasn't changed."

"How old did you say your—"

"Nineteen. Full of wild ideas. California good place for Gene. If watched, you do that, Grimsaw. Here's check thousand dollars. Retainer, understand? Send young operative, your best."

"My very best in this case, Mr. Twohey. Thanks. Now the Los Angeles address of—"

"Gene? Lives, Delta Kappa Tau house. Mrs. Something or other in charge. Name—er, Mrs. Bronson, that's it. Supposed to watch over 'em."

"I have everything down here, Mr. Twohey. Now—"

"Send operative today; understand? New student. Got it all down? No going in the 'movies,' no getting married, no—"

"Don't worry. I'll remember everything. I'll send you confidential daily—"

"Reports? Don't want 'em. Just watch Gene. That's all. No news, good news. Wire me if the kid's—"

"About to throw over the traces? I'll have the operative do that direct to you, Mr. Twohey."

"Going to, Grimsaw. Good-day. Send bill. Keep photograph. Give it to operative. Going to rain, huh? By."

Out in Los Angeles apparently everything went all right with the youngest of William W. Twohey's brood. Weekly bills came from the Grimsaw office but no reports.

Six weeks passed. Then a terse telegram, direct to old William W. It read:

Your son, Gene, has had marriage fever past three weeks. Impossible to stop or cure him. Marriage only solution to save him from films. So married him myself this morning. Wiring Grimsaw office same report. Am resigning position. We are leaving tonight for Honolulu. Our honeymoon. All well. Same to you and Mr. Grimsaw.

MARY RUTH, Operative.

A few minutes later—very few—the millionaire burst into the inner office of the detective manager. Both were snorting mad; both had wires in their hand, both began exploding at once.

"What blackmail scheme is—" snorted old William W.

"What has happened to my daughter, Mary Ruth, out there in—" barked Allan P.

"Mary Ruth—your daughter," gasped the old magnate. "Why, I told you to send—"

"You old scoundrel, you told me to send a fit chum for your daughter, Jean. You gave me her baby photograph. Here it is!"

"Good Lord! Bartholomew's little girl!" William W. squeaked, recognizing the lost photograph. "But I—I couldn't have given you this—"

"Well, you did!" the detective cut him short. "Blackmail! Why—why you said distinctly Jean, and you told me that was the only photo you had of her; liar! I'm going to Los Angeles on the next train."

William W. Twohey actually chuckled; "fair and warmer" the weather signal read now.

"Grimsaw," he laughed. "That's one on me! Let's make that double and go on to Honolulu, old man. On me! Mary Ruth, hum! Say, we need a detective in the family. We'll bear watching! One thing, Grimsaw, if there's a daughter, name's going to be Jean, un-huh?"

WHO'S WHO in HIGH SCHOOL

Two sisters, Miss Bertha and Miss Beatrice Maple, are among the new teachers added to the high school faculty this year. Both of these young ladies claim Oklahoma, with Tonkawa as their home town. They are graduates of the University of Oklahoma, and have had post graduate work in the University of California. After a short season of teaching in their native state, they set about seeking new worlds to conquer. Their experiences among the people in the mountain regions of Tennessee and Kentucky were extremely interesting. As Campfire girls their interest was early awakened and developed in nature and the realities of life. Clean sport and the faculty of getting pleasure out of the common things of life mean much in the development of wholesome womanhood.

Miss Bertha Maple is in charge of Home Economics and Domestic Art. Before coming here she taught in the high school of Eldorado, Oklahoma. She is enjoying her work in South San Francisco. She finds her girls quick to learn and they are willing workers, which makes it possible to accomplish a great deal. The Trustee-Faculty Luncheon given recently by Miss Bertha's Freshmen girls was an accomplishment worthy of much more experienced persons. She is always ready and willing to help with any of the school affairs. Spreads and parties where "eats" are featured are sure to be improved by Miss Bertha's skill. Much attention is given to the sewing classes. Some of the girls have completed several dresses already this term. The work done in the class room is of real practical value.

Miss Beatrice Maple is a teacher in the English Department. She enjoys athletics, and made class teams in baseball and basketball in high school and university. She has also taken teachers' training course in athletics. She taught English a year in the University Preparatory school of Tonkawa, Okla., and a year in the high school of Billings, Okla. Miss Beatrice thinks our boys and girls quite original and likes their impulsiveness. She has been selected to coach the senior play, "Charm School," this year.

These young ladies bring with them the spontaneity of youth, coupled with high ideals and serious ambition. They have a real human interest in their subjects, and intend to see to it that their pupils become interested too. They are ready and able to put across the newest and most practical ideas of modern education.

Better Fire Protection Assured

Mayor McNellis brought up the matter, as did Trustee McCaffrey in connection with fire hydrants in front of the Methodist church, the Catholic church and the Fontana Food Products company. Fire Chief Trux stated that double hydrants were needed in these localities and also at the high school. City Clerk McSweeney was instructed to write to the water company, requesting that these hydrants be installed.

Model of an Ideal Playground for Children

THE COMMUNITY OWES TO ALL CHILDREN THE OPPORTUNITY FOR PLAY. PLAYGROUNDS should be provided in each neighborhood with sufficient space and equipment to care for the children of the neighborhood. A trained playground director should be in charge. PARKS should afford space and equipment for athletic games of all kinds. VACATION periods in the open country should be available for all children.

PLAY Means HEALTH Through play the child uses and develops his body, gaining health and vigor. EDUCATION In the competition of games the child learns alertness, concentration, perseverance. GOOD CITIZENSHIP On the playground the child receives valuable training in fair play, loyalty, team work.
